SHORT-SESSION TRADING ADVANCES WHEAT VALUES.

PAMAGE REPORTS CAUSE LATE COVERING.

Corn, Though Dull, Follows Wheat, Despite Favorable Crop Conditions.

Wheat futures, with the exception of July, were sharply higher at the close of Saturday's market. For awhile it seemed as though the bears were to have the better of the argument, but the favorable weather in the greater portion of the winter belt was offset by predictions of hot winds in the Northwest.

Corn was dull, but moderately strong.
While weather conditions were generally bearish the receipts here and at other primary points were extremely small.

Outside of a few odd head and a load or two of cattle held by traders there was nothing elsy in the varies.

SOUTHERN CATTLE-There were no fresh receipts in the quarantine division, all that was available being several loads of electra and —— on the common order that have been carried for several days. What was offered was more than enough for invest needs, the only sale had being to a namil killer, who was not affected by the strike. There were several ereder buyers who would have purchased had they been able to set thoir stuff out.

Dry Goods.

New York, July 15.—The dry goods market as the week ends is in an appreciably firmer position, with a slight increase in transactions. Manufacturers are not disinclined to sell their product at the prevalent business. The action of the Southern manufacturer in establishing higher prices for certain lines is considered one of the most buillish factors in the market than for some time.

ELKS AT CINCINNATI WILL HOLD THEIR CONVENTION.

Programmes Have Been Arranged to Keep the Delegates Busy Every Day This Week.

Cincinnati, O., July 17.--The Grand Lodge convention reunion of all Elks will convene here with elaborate programmes for every day this week.

To-day with the thermometer in the nineties, the local lodge in detachments at the different depots has been busy es-certing visitors to the general hendquart ers for registering, and then to their respective hotels. The reception committee Meantime three steamers have been chartered for excursions on the Chlo River from which the fireworks will be viewed in the evening on both the Ohie and the Kentucky banks of the river. On Tuesday morning the Grand Lodge will be opened in Music Hail with a musical programme and addresses and elaborate entertainments in the afternoon and evening. The parade will take place on Vedenceray. While the delegates are engaged or their sessions many entertainments have been arranged for other visiting Liks and their ladies.

The business sessions of the Grand Lodge will be important, as several matters of consequence to the grder are to be decided. The afternoon of Tuesday the election of Grand Lodge officers will take place. The most interesting contests are for the positions of grand exalted ruler and grand secretary. For grand exalted ruler there are two candidates, William J. O'Brien of Baitimore, and Samuel H. Needs of Cleveland. For grand secretary there are several candidates, Charles Steger of Toledo, Fred C. Robinson of Dubuque, Ia., Archie Burke of Richmond, Va., and David L. Wattson of Terre Haute, Ind., are among those in the field since George A. Reynolds of Saginaw has announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election.

The city is elaborately decorated and the local arrangements are on the meet extensive scale ever known for any occasion here. Grand Exalted Ruler Fanning of Indianapolis says the reunion this week will mark a new era in Elkdom. chartered for excursions on the Chic River from which the fireworks will be
